CRAIG PATRICK

VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

In the space of only three years, Craig Patrick, the youngest General Manager in New York Ranger history, has, through opportunistic player acquisitions and shrewd drafting, built a team that, last year, won more games—42—than any Ranger team in a decade, a total that ranks fifth-highest in the 58-year history of the club.

Upon becoming General Manager on June 4, 1981, Patrick immediately revamped the club's scouting department, improving it while expanding upon it. In the short years since, Ranger fans have already seen the fruits of such restyling in the likes of wingers Jan Erixon and Peter Sundstrom and defenseman James Patrick. Through trading and free-agent signings, Patrick strengthened the team in other ways. Free agents like centers Mark Pavelich and Pierre Larouche, last year's two top Ranger scorers, were added. And such new Ranger stars as goaltender Glen Hanlon, who enjoyed his best-ever NHL year last season, and promising left wing Mark Osborne both were acquired through Patrick trades. All of these players meshed last year to produce a team total of 93 points, the fifth-highest in team history.

Craig comes to his hockey knowledge "naturally" being only the latest standard-bearer of the historic Patrick family legend. His grandfather, Lester, was the leader of the original Rangers, 59 years ago, playing for, coaching and managing the club's three Stanley Cup-winning teams. Craig's father Lynn was an All-Star winger for New York for 10 years and coached the team from 1948 through 1950. And Craig's uncle, Muzz, was a Blueshirt defenseman for five seasons, and later was GM and coach of the team from 1954 to 1964.

Craig himself came up through the ranks. Born in Detroit (where father Lynn was in the Army) in 1946, he grew up in New Haven and Boston, and graduated with a degree in business administration from the University of Denver, helping them on the ice to two NCAA championships in '68 and '69. Turning down an offer to captain the '72 U.S. Olympic Team in favor of becoming a pro, Craig went on to play eight years in the NHL as a forward, with California, St. Louis, Kansas City, Washington and Minnesota of the WHA, before retiring in 1979. After captaining the U.S. National Team in the 1979 World Championships in Moscow, he joined up with present Ranger coach Herb Brooks as the Assistant Manager and Assistant Coach of the history-making 1980 gold-medal-winning U.S. Olympic Hockey Team.

Four months after joining the Rangers in 1980 as Director of Operations, Patrick was named the 18th Head Coach of the club and led it to a 26-23-11 record during his one-season helm, taking the Rangers to the semi-finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Craig lives in Pleasantville, N.Y. with his wife Sue, daughter Erin (10½) and sons Cory (7½) and Ryan (5½.)

HERB BROOKS

HEAD COACH

When Don Maloney scored the game-winning goal last January 16 at 15:04 of the second period against Detroit, it gave Herb Brooks a record. It was Brooks' 100th NHL win. And, in the modern era of hockey, with 70- to 80-game seasons, no other Ranger coach has reached 100 wins quicker than Herb Brooks. Only five other coaches in the history of the team have even won 100 or more games.

Five of Brooks' wins came at the beginning of last year, setting another Ranger record—the best start in the club's history. By March 25, the Rangers won their 40th game of the year (they finished 42-29-9 overall) the first time they had done that in six years. Their 314 goals were the fifth-highest total in club history . . . they reached 93 points, the most since 1973-74 . . . they were 19-7 in one-goal games . . . and their power-play ranked third in the league. "I think we've moved from the middle of the pack to the top one-third of organizations in the past three years," says Brooks. "You must build it slow and wise to have a long-term foundation."

For Brooks, that foundation started being laid on June 4, 1981, the day he became the 19th Head Coach in Rangers' history. He had never coached or played in the pros, but he has proved that that kind of experience is not necessary. Experience in winning is. And that he had lots of.

Of course, his most famous winning came in 1980, in the XIII Winter Olympics at Lake Placid, N.Y. when, aided by present Ranger General Manager Craig Patrick, his U.S. Olympic Hockey Team shocked the world by winning the Gold Medal. The event has become, beyond sports, a piece of American history.

But Brooks won before '80, too. With the University of Minnesota. From the time he was appointed head coach of the Gophers in 1972, until he became coach of the U.S. National Team immediately before the Olympics, Brooks compiled a 175-100-20 record for a winning percentage of .627. In seven years, after beginning as an assistant under Glen Sonmor, Herb led Minnesota to three NCAA titles, in 1974, 1976 and 1979—the first such championships in the school's history—and one runner-up position.

As a player, Brooks developed considerable international experience after his college career at Minnesota. After being the last cut of the 1960 U.S. Olympic gold medal-winning team, he played for the Olympians in 1964 and 1968 as a defenseman, co-captaining the '68 squad. He also played on five U.S. National Teams, captaining three of them.

A riveting speaker in the locker room and at post-game press conferences, Brooks is a sought-after lecturer by leading corporations and speakers' bureaus. He had been the recipient of numerous local and national awards, such as The Sporting News NHL coach of the year citation in 1982, as voted upon by his fellow NHL coaches.

He makes his off-season home in Minnesota with wife Patti, son Dan (17) and daughter Kelly (12.)

RANGER TEAM STAFF

Joe Bucchino
Manager of Team Operations

"Buccha" is the man who does it all for the Rangers: Sets up training camp . . . handles all travel arrangements for the club . . . wears the head phones to relay during-game instructions between the bench and press box . . . and acts as confidant to each and every New York Ranger. Born in Boston, Joe, after playing high school hockey there, began his NHL career as a trainer with the 1974 Boston Bruins and stayed through '76. In 1977 he was appointed trainer for Team Canada in the World Cup Tournament. The next year he came south to New York and began his rise in the Rangers organization. First appointed as Assistant Trainer in 1978, Joe became Head Trainer in '79 and a year later moved into the front office as Staff Assistant. Another year brought another move, this time to Administrative Assistant in 1981 before taking on his present duties under GM Craig Patrick as Manager of Team Operations in 1982. Joe, who loves the telephone but hates flying, will talk in front of any group, in or out of season, in promoting the Broadway Blueshirts. He and his wife Iris, who heads up the Annual Ranger Wives Fashion Show, live in Pleasantville, N.Y. and are the proud parents of a brand-new baby boy, Andrew Joseph.

Wayne Thomas
Assistant Coach

"Wayner" begins his fifth year as a Ranger assistant, specializing in New York's goaltenders, his own position during nine years in the NHL. Thomas finished his career with the Rangers, playing here in 94 games from 1977 to 1981 after being acquired from the Toronto Maple Leafs. In his career, he accomplished two distinctions that few goalies do . . . a shutout in his first major league game, and a Stanley Cup in his first major league year. On January 14, 1973 Montreal Canadien rookie Wayne Thomas shut out the Vancouver Canucks, 3-0. And that year the Canadiens won their 16th Stanley Cup. Wayne became Montreal's regular goalie the next year, posting a 2.76 GAA, and went on to play a total of 243 NHL games, adding two years with Toronto before coming to New York in October, '77. The Canadiens had traded him to the Maple Leafs for a No. 1 draft choice in the 1976 draft. In his career, Wayne posted 10 regular-season shutouts and one playoff whitewash. Wayne returned to the Univ. of Wisconsin this summer to continue his studies towards a physical education degree. He and his wife Barb spent the off-season in Wisconsin with daughters Gretchen (10) and Abra (9.)

Carol Vadnais
Assistant Coach

"Vad" will this year enter his second season as an assistant to Herb Brooks, concentrating on the Ranger defense. He played seven years for the Rangers (1975-82) after coming to the club along with Phil Esposito in the 1975 trade with Boston for Brad Park, Jean Ratelle and Joe Zanussi. In his 17 years in the NHL, Vadnais played in six All-Star Games, two with the Rangers. Upon his retirement in 1983, he ranked as the No. 1 active NHL defenseman in games-played, 1087. Born in Montreal, he grew up "in the shadows" of the Forum, and played for the Montreal Canadiens Jrs., before joining the fabled "Les Habitants" in 1966-67. After spending parts of four years with Oakland-California, Vadnais was traded to the Boston Bruins, where he enjoyed some of his greatest years, including a Stanley Cup title in 1972. He holds the distinction of scoring the 10,000th goal in New York Ranger history, on March 15, 1980. Vad is an impeccable dresser, as he will tell you, knows where all the finest restaurants are in every town, and loves his cigars. He and his wife Raymonde have a daughter, Michelle (10½), and spend the off-season in Montreal.

Deposited his two game-winners within a week: 1/12 at Philadelphia, at 4:12 of third period in Rangers 2-1 win over Flyers; and 1/18 vs. St. Louis, in the second period (14:03) in 6-2 victory . . . Followed those up in late February for a 3-3 tie at New Jersey on 2/28 . . . Other big game came 12/21 vs. Pittsburgh, as he tied personal best—and team-best for season—of three assists in a game in New York's 6-1 triumph . . . Played in his 200th game as a Blueshirt 2/29 in Toronto—and got an assist.

Got hat-trick two nights later, 10/11 at Toronto . . . Also that year scored back-to-back game-winning goals in playoffs against St. Louis . . .

MIKE BLAISDELL

RIGHT WING

6-1 200 Shoots R

Born: 1/18/60

Moose Jaw, Sask.

1983-84: Came to the Apple in the big off-season trade with Detroit, got his feet wet in NYC early in the season—scoring a game-winner—and finished the year as a top-scoring kingpin of the CHL champion Oilers . . . Played 36 games for the Rangers, while accumulating 5 G, 6 A for 11 PTS . . . Biggest score came on 10/19 vs. Calgary, as his goal at 19:59 of the first period gave the Rangers a 3-1 win, and an opening-season record at that point of 7-1-0 . . . Other scores came against Winnipeg, New Jersey, Chicago and Philadelphia . . . Optioned to Tulsa on 1/12, he proceeded to average more than a point every two games and spark the team's rush to the Central Hockey League crown with their eight-out-of-nine game playoff runaway . . . In those games, he had 6 G (including two game-winners) and 6 A for a total of 12 PTS, tying him for second place along with teammate Gary Burns in the CHL final playoff scoring rankings . . . Those six goals also tied him for second among league playoff players (along with teammate Bob Scurfield) . . . And his two game-winning assists tied him for the CHL playoff lead . . . Finally, his hat-trick on 4/14 in the Oilers win over at Salt Lake City was not duplicated by any other CHL playoff-er . . . During the regular season, Blaisdell accounted for 10 G and 8 A for 18 PTS in his 32 CHL games.

CAREER: Along with Willie Huber and Mark Osborne, makes up the Rangers threesome that was acquired on 6/14/83 . . . Had played two full NHL seasons before joining the Rangers, and appeared in every regular-season contest for the Red Wings in that time . . . Top year was his rookie season, when he notched 23 G and 32 A for 55 PTS . . . Had a 18 G, 23 A, 41 PT season immediately before joining New York . . . Was Detroit's 1980 First Round selection out of Regina of the WCHL—Understandable, because that year he had 71 goals in 63 games for the Pats . . . Scored his first—and second—NHL goals in the same game, on 10/23/80 in a 5-1 Detroit win over Calgary.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Blazer," "Wally" . . . Loves his music . . . Thinks he might like to operate a restaurant when his playing days are over . . . A waterskier between seasons . . . Single.

1983-84: Accompanied countryman Peter Sundstrom to North America and both joined up with Pierre Larouche to form one of team's most effective lines. "I just wish I was 19 years old, so I could play with them for 10 more years," said Larouche . . . Finished year as Rangers' third-highest plus/minus man, +14 . . . Tied for fifth in league among rookie regulars in that category . . . Tied five other NHL rookies for 2nd place in Assists in Consecutive Games—5 . . . Scored first NHL goal in only his third game, 10/8 at Pittsburgh in 6-1 Ranger win . . . Tailed off, scoring-wise, for most of season's first quarter, but established himself as one of club's strongest defensive forwards—playing all three positions, and in power-play and short-handed situations . . . Then, come Game No. 20, his puck started doing things, like notching 14 points in 20 games, including 12 assists . . . Had goals in back-to-back games, 12/7 and 12/12 during that streak . . . Primed himself for the playoffs by racking up eight points (1 G, 7 A) in Rangers last nine games. In three of those matches, all wins, and all against division rivals, Erixon notched two points per game . . . Playoffs: Netted Game No. 1's first goal on the first Ranger shot, 2:49 into the match, then, in the heart-stopping Garden encounter that brought the Rangers to within one of taking the series, Erixon's second goal in three games, at 2:05 of the second period, proved the game-winner in 7-2 Ranger victory.

CAREER: Drafted by Rangers in 1981, right before pal Sundstrom, but because of military commitments and desire by Rangers to have both mature, played two more full seasons for hometown Skelleftea club . . . Best year there was last, with 10 G and 18 A for 28 PTS in 36 games . .. That doubled his point production of year before . . . Selected for Swedish Junior National Team that copped World Championship in '80-'81.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Exit" . . . He and cohort Sundstrom each own a pacer back home. Jan's: "Tyffa Star" . . . They were also in the military together . . . Did not venture into "Big City" too often last year. Liked leafy confines of Westchester . . . Single.

Born: 5/25/52

Staten Island, N.Y.

1983-84: Mr. New York made his goals and points count throughout the season, especially when it came to Patrick Division opponents . . . Of his total of 13 PTS in 40 GP, eight came against division rivals in five games, with New York winning all five . . . Highlight of these points had to be on 2/15 vs. Islanders, when his off-balance, backhand goal with 6:52 left in the game beat the Isles and lifted the Rangers into sole possession of first place (over their Long Island rivals), the latest in a season they had been in that position since 1970 . . . Set a personal record for Most Points In A Game—Three—on night of 12/21 vs. Pittsburgh in his 500th NHL game, when he scored two goals, the first the game-winner, and added an assist in the Rangers 6-1 victory . . . Two more of his goals came in one game, when he netted two vs. Vancouver on 3/4 . . . Had two assists 3/14 vs. Philadelphia in 6-3 Ranger win. That game gave him five points in his last five games (3/4-3/14) . . . Ended season with a +8 ranking in plus/minus marks, seventh-best on team . . . His shooting percentage—17.5—ranked him No. 4 on club . . . Reached 902 lifetime penalty minutes on 3/20 vs. Boston, only the fifth player in Ranger history to hit that mark . . . WILLIE HUBER

DEFENSE

6-5 225 Shoots R

Born: 1/15/58

Strasskirchen, Germany

1983-84: His debut as one of New York's "Twin Towers" (with 6-3 Beck) was somewhat hampered by injuries . . . Came East in six-man summer deal with Detroit . . . Scored the game-winning goal (on a power-play) in only his fourth game as a Blueshirt, on 10/10 vs. Los Angeles . . . Thereafter had his season constantly interrupted by injuries: three games in early November (11/5-11/9) with groin strain; six games in mid-November (11/19-11/28) with abductor muscle pull in left thigh; then the real killer: a torn medial collateral ligament in his right knee, that required arthroscopic surgery, on 12/31 in Buffalo. That injury dictated 23 games-missed, for a unfortunate total of 34 games . . . Up to the season, had been a steady, always-ready performer, playing 304 of possible 320 games for Red Wings his last four years there . . . In spite of this past season's inactivity, made his scores count, ranking No. 5 on the team (second among defensemen) in power-play goals, with four, three of them in winning games . . . Potted two PPGs 12/28 at Chicago in 7-4 Ranger romp . . . Got a shorthanded goal 12/7 vs. Washington and an assault in 7-5 win (almost one third of his career scores—23 out of 77—have been on the advantage.) . . . High-point game of year came on 10/26 vs. Winnipeg—a goal and two assists. Also had eight shots on goal, his high-water mark of the year (which he duplicated in that 12/28 game in Chicago.) . . . Played his 400th NHL game 12/30 vs. Philadelphia.

CAREER: Was Detroit's Rookie of the Year, as chosen by the Detroit Sports Broadcasters association in '78-'79 . . . Went on his four final seasons there to average 44 PTS a year . . . Accumulated 612 penalty minutes in 372 games for the Red Wings . . . Chosen for Team Canada in the 1981 World Hockey Championships . . . Played amateur for the Hamilton Fincups of the OHA, helping them become the Memorial Cup champs in '75-'76.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Hubie" . . . Likeable, easy-to-talk-to-guy . . . Was born in Germany, coming to Canada when he was 10 months old. "I can't even speak German," he says . . . Holds "record" as tallest Ranger ever, over 6-4 Dale Rolfe (1970-75) and 6-4 Dean Talafous (1978-82) . . . Single.

1983-84 Rangers 1982 first round draft choice split the season between the big club and Oilers of the CHL . . . Got his second taste of major league action after 44 games with the Rangers in '82-'83 . . . '84 debut for New York (after 11 games in Tulsa) came on 1/29 vs. St. Louis in a 3-2 win that put the Rangers in first place at the All-Star break . . . Played the next five games, which coincided with New York's successful 2-1-3 annual Western road trip, earning one assist . . . That came on 2/4 at Vancouver in 5-4 Ranger win, as he assisted Mikko Leinonen at 17:41 of the first period in what proved to be the game-decider . . . Was optioned to Tulsa of the Central Hockey League on 2/24 and finished the season there with an overall total of 21 games, 5 G and 13 A for 18 PTS . . . In that total were two power-play scores . . . Began his '83-'84 season with Tulsa, scoring the game-winner in his second game of the year there, a 4-0 victory over the Montana Magic on 1/7.

CAREER: Selected by the Rangers 15th overall in the draft from the Toronto Marlboros, to which he had been traded in 10/81 . . . Made his National Hockey League debut a year later, on 12/26/82 at Pittsburgh . . . Scored his first major league goal two games later, on New Year's Day in Washington, in 7-2 New York romp . . . That began a streak of four goals in four games for the rookie, two coming in the same game on 1/3 vs. Detroit in 6-2 win. Three of his goals that year came against Detroit . . . Added to that streak with three goals in five games, from 2/1-2/12 with two of the scores coming in back-to-back games . . . Finished his first Ranger year with these totals: 8 G, 7 A, 15 PTS in 44 GP . . . His final junior year, placed 12th in Ontario Hockey Association scoring, with 42 G, 62 A and 104 PTS in 71 GP . . . Accounted for two hat-tricks, 13 PPGs and 5 GWGs that season . . . Tied for 2nd in the league in playoff scoring then, with 16 PTS (7 G, 9 A) in 10 GP . . . With Toronto, centered a line that included the Islanders' Greg Gilbert.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "KK" . . . Quiet, unassuming . . . An outdoorsman during the summer, though he spent the majority of his time skating indoors . . . Likes "flying to games," he says. Dislikes "bussing to games" . . . Single.

TOM LAIDLAW

DEFENSE

6-2 215 Shoots L

Born: 4/15/58

Brampton, Ont.

1983-84: Continued to build on his team role as a solid defensive defenseman during season and in playoffs . . . Sailed through year unscathed, playing in 79 of 80 games, missing only 3/22 at New Jersey with late-season rest . . . Got some offense in too, with 3 G and 15 A for 18 PTS . . . Most enjoyable score had to be his game-winner on 12/3 at Detroit for 4-2 Ranger win, which broke team's five-game winless streak. Ironically, his last regular-season goal also came against Detroit, on 3/8/82. "No big thing," said Laidlaw. "Every 120 games I score a goal." The win vaulted Rangers into first place over Islanders . . . Laidlaw's offensive-notable year also included a three-point game, on 1/25 at Pittsburgh, when he registered a goal and two assists in Rangers come-from-behind, 6-3 win that moved them to within a point of first-place Isles . . . Other goal came on 2/11 at Los Angeles in wild 6-6 tie . . . Had two "mini" assist streaks, three in five games, 11/9-11/19, and four in three, 1/12-1/16 . . . Played in his 300th game as a Ranger 2/19 vs. Philadelphia.

CAREER: Has proven to be one of steadiest of Rangers, never having missed a game through injury in his four years with club. Has sat out only four contests in that time . . . First NHL goal (on a power-play) came on 11/8/80 at Vancouver . . . Mainstay of Northern Michigan Univ. team that reached NCAA finals in 1980. Elected to All-Tournament Team that year . . . Lists game that got the Wildcats to the championships, a 4-3 win over University of Minnesota, as most memorable of career . . . Cited by Ranger peers in '81-'82 (along with Mark Pavelich) and '82-'83 for Players' Player Award sponsored by West Side Association.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Laids" . . . An effervescent, always-up team leader . . . Always accompanied by his new dog, "Buck," a golden retriever . . . Spent summer working on his new home. "I bought it for Buck," he says . . . Did numerous charity appearances for team in off-season . . . Single.

DAVE MALONEY

6-1 195 Shoots L

Born: 7/31/56

Kitchener, Ont.

1983-84: This young "old" veteran completed his 8th full year with the Rangers by finishing the season with a +11 in the plus/minus category, a swing of 14 points from his ranking of the year before . . . So, although his offensive production fell off, his overall value to the club was definitely felt. At the three-quarter mark of the season, led the team in plus/minus with a +19 . . . Began the year with a hot stick, sending in five goals in the Rangers first eight games, all wins, helping to build the club's best start in history . . . Four out of those five goals came against divisional opponents . . . Two of them were on power-plays (the first, on 10/5, being the first for the Rangers in the season), and one of them, on 10/13, was the game-winner, against the Capitals . . . Continued on with that offensive streak, compiling 13 PTS in the team's first 12 games, on his 5 G and 8 A . . . Had a three-assist game on 11/13 vs. Detroit, his career high-water mark in that category (which he's done four times), tying the high for any Ranger during the season . . . Three times had three games in a row in which he earned at least one assist per game: 10/23-10/28; 1/21-1/26; 2/23-2/26 . . . Reached 1,037 career penalty minutes in the first period on 1/4 vs. New Jersey, surpassing Vic Hadfield for second-most in Ranger history . . . His assist on opening night was 200th as a Ranger . . . Finished 19th in voting among all league defensemen for the NHL All-Star Game.

CAREER: With fellow defenseman Ron Greschner, is the oldest Ranger in point of service, having first appeared in Ranger blue 10 years ago . . . Has distinction of being youngest Ranger ever, when, at 18, he played four games in '74-'75 season . . . Was—at 22—the youngest Ranger captain ever, sporting the "C" from 10/11/78-12/6/80 . . . Best offensive New York year: 1982-83—8 G, 42 A, 50 PTS in 78 GP.

PERSONAL: Personable and outgoing . . . never seems to stop moving in off-season, trading on Wall St. for Bear, Stearns & Co. (his second year there) . . . Ran (with brother Don) the Maloney Brothers Hockey Schools also . . . And did a lot of charitable appearances . . . Married: Wife, Vicki; Son, David (2).

DON MALONEY

LEFT WING

6-1 190 Shoots L

Born: 9/5/58

Lindsay, Ont.

1983-84: Made his third most productive season count with his key goals throughout year (finishing second on team in scoring percentage), topped off by stellar MVP role in NHL All-Star game . . . Tied with Mark Osborne for most game-winning goals on team—five—with four of them (from 1/8-1/25) coming on consecutive scores, against Islanders, Detroit, Toronto and Pittsburgh . . . Closely followed up that streak with another game-winning goal, that being his score at 7:24 of the third period of the 36th Annual NHL All-Star Game to lift the Wales Conference over the Campbell Conference, 7-6, adding three assists to tie a NHL All-Star record winning a Camaro for his efforts . . . If any goal could be more notable than that, it was Maloney's on 4/10 in the fifth and final game of the Patrick Division Semi-Finals vs. the Islanders, when his score :39 from the end of regulation sent the game into overtime, with the Rangers eventually losing, 3-2 . . . Accumulated that goal and five assists in the five playoff games . . . Tied Mike Rogers for team lead in short handed goals—three—with two of them coming in opener, 10/5 vs. New Jersey . . . Finished second among regulars in scoring percentage to Pierre Larouche, 18.6 . . . Registered his 300th point as a Ranger 11/13 vs. Detroit . . . His assist on a Larouche goal 2/25 at Montreal gave him 200 in NHL career . . . And his two assists on 3/24 at Philadelphia gave him 342 Ranger career points, tying him with Bob Nevin for 19th place on New York's all-time scoring lists . . . Finished ninth in voting for the Lady Byng Trophy . . . Finished third in All-Star Game voting for left wings.

CAREER: Has never been below 50 points in his full Ranger seasons . . . Best-scoring year was his sophomore season ('79-'80), with 73 PTS on 25 G, 48 A . . . 1983-84: Ten-year NHL pro was acquired from St. Louis along with Bob Brooke to provide late-season front-line insurance as well as penalty-killing strength, his forte . . . Should contribute needed expertise in the latter area this year after spending three-quarters of season recovering from 1983 training camp disc surgery. . . . Had never played less than 67 games in his nine full NHL seasons before '83-'84, a year in which he appeared in 17 games for the Blues and the final nine games for the Rangers . . . Performed his patented magic—unassisted—in only his second Blueshirt game, registering a shorthanded goal 7:08 into the first period 3/17 at Philadelphia to give the Rangers a 1-0 lead at the time. That was his 25th lifetime SHG . . . One of his two assists in his Ranger tenure was also on a shorthanded score, on 3/25 vs. Montreal on a Don Maloney goal that gave club a 2-0 lead in second period in eventual 3-2 win . . . Finished up his year by appearing in last four playoff games against Islanders, earning an assist in game No. 3.

CAREER: Has established himself as one of best penalty-killers in the game, especially in 1980-81, when he became only one of five players in NHL history to score eight shorthanded goals in a season. At that time, only one man, Marcel Dionne, has scored more—10. Patey's total that season was the last time it was done in league till Wayne Gretzky (12) and Kent Nilsson (9) bettered it this past year . . . Left St. Louis as their all-time shorthanded scorer, with 23 . . . Ranks No. 4 on Blues' all-time games-played list—603 . . . Missed only 27 games with St. Louis till injured last year . . . Was named Western Hockey League's Rookie of Year with Salt Lake City year before he became permanent big leaguer . . . Highest NHL goal-total was 25 with California in '74-'75.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Pates" . . . Flies planes, and has since he was 15. Has a "float rating," able to fly sea planes. Has owned and rebuilt an antique J3 Club, a World War II vintage trainer . . . 1983-84: Rangers 1981 First Round draft choice played in Olympics, then joined team in early March to exhibit talents—at age of 20—that had been forecast by scouts . . . Made his NHL debut 3/7 at Minnesota in a 6-3 Ranger loss. "The only good thing about Minnesota was James," said Ron Greschner afterwards. Was installed on power-play after his first shift by coach Brooks . . . His "real" debut, though, was his next game, 3/9—in front of his hometown Winnipeg fans—as his three assists (tying others for '83-'84 Ranger season high mark for a game) helped New York break a four-game losing streak with a 6-5 come-from-behind overtime victory. His third assist came on Mark Osborne's winning OT goal . . . First NHL goal came three games later, on 3/17 at Philadelphia, at 7:30 of the second period to give the Rangers a 4-1 lead in eventual 6-4 loss . . . Finished regular season as a +6 in plus/minus rankings . . . Was a definite factor in Rangers playoff defense, pairing up with Tom Laidlaw, and leading all team defensemen in scoring with three assists, including the one on pivotal Don Maloney game-tying goal at 19:21 of third period of final game.

CAREER: After being drafted by Rangers as an underage player, elected to forestall his pro debut by finishing up his eligibility at University of North Dakota and playing for Canada in Olympics . . . Was defensive bulwark of Canadian team that finished fourth in XIV Winter Olympic Games . . . Had three assists in Canada's seven Olympic contests and finished seventh in overall year-long team scoring with 7 G, 24 A, 31 PTS in 63 GP . . . Was named Rookie of the Year in the WCHA for 1981-82 while helping North Dakota Fighting Sioux to the NCAA Championship . . . Was one of 10 finalists for Hobey Baker Award, symbolic of Best Collegiate Player, his final year, also earning All-America and First-Team honors.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Jeep" . . . Sure of himself, mature . . . His name is "James," not Jim . . . Brother, who calls himself "Stephen," is with Buffalo Sabres . . . 1983-84: Had his best season as a Ranger, leading team in scoring with 82 points . . . Led club in assists, 53 (career high), and came in second in power-play goals, 12 . . . Reached his entire '82-'83 assist total of 38 in 46th game of year, 1/16 . . . When he dishes them out, team goes well, as Rangers' record in games when Pavelich gets more than one assist indicates: 7-4-1. Six of those games (out of 12) came against Patrick Division opponents, in which Rangers were 4-2 . . . Had hot assist streaks in beginning of season, racking up 15 in 12 games, 10/28-11/23; and in late-December through February, with 17 in 17 games, 12/28-2/4 . . . season, racking up 15 in 12 games. But scored, too, accounting for six two-goal games, during which Rangers were 4-2. These accounted for an interesting breakdown, too, six of these 12 goals coming on power plays, one when team was shorthanded and two being game-winners . . . Finished season in a surge, and carried it into playoffs. Had four goals in last two games and 18 points (10-8-18) in last 11 games. His two-goal game in 5-3 Ranger loss 3/31 at Hartford was his sixth-straight two-point game and was his third two-goal game in his last six . . . Continued good stick in five games of division semi-finals, with 2 G, 4 A, 6 PTS, to lead Rangers in scoring. Had three assists (and a goal) in 7-2, win in game No. 3 on 4/7 at Garden . . . Registered 200th NHL point 1/12 at Philadelphia.

CAREER: Tied a Ranger record for Most Goals In A Game—5—on 2/23/83 vs. Hartford in 11-3 Ranger win. That equaled Don Murdoch's club record . . . Part of remaining Ranger contingent of GM Patrick and Coach Herb Brooks hockey triumph in Olympics . . . Led Ranger forwards in plus/minus with a +20 in '82-'83 . . . In his three Ranger seasons, has 233 points in 234 games, second-best rate to Mike Rogers in those year . . . Has missed only six games in his three Ranger seasons.

STEVE RICHMOND

DEFENSE

6-1 205 Shoots L

Born: 12/11/59

Chicago, Ill.

1983-84: Had the kind of big league debut kids only dream about, and went onto spark team in games he played . . . Rangers ran into a shortage of defensemen in mid-January due to flu to Reijo Ruotsalainen and league suspension of Dave Maloney, so Richmond was called up from Tulsa Oilers of CHL on a "one-game" basis on 1/17 . . . The next day (vs. St. Louis), all the kid did was make the brass change "one game" to "rest of season" . . . :59 into the match he entered his first NHL penalty box, did it again later on in the period, then, 3½ minutes from the end of the game, on his second shot of the game, rocked a bullet past Bunny Larocque for his first-ever NHL score, unassisted, in a 6-2 New York win. "You could hear him all the way to the 'Blues,' " said Herb Brooks of Richmond's reaction . . . His presence in the lineup (he finished the season at a +6 ranking) lifted the club through the rest of the season, the Rangers achieving a 15-7-4 record with Richmond in the lineup . . . One of his seasonal assists was key, on 2/15 vs. Islanders, on Nick Fotiu's game-winning goal that boosted the club into first place over the Isles . . . Before joining big club, played in 38 games for the Oilers, with one goal 1 G. 17 A for 18 PTS . . . That assist total ranked him No. 2 on the club at the time of his recall to left wing George McPhee.

CAREER: Moved, at 16 years old, from his home in Chicago to Pickering, Ontario to play Junior B, complete high school and seek out a college scholarship . . . Two years later, he was at the University of Michigan, playing up front his first year there . . . In '80-'81 he was Michigan's top scorer, with 22 G, 34 A for 54 PTS . . . Passed up in the draft, he was signed by the Rangers as a free agent after his graduation.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "General" . . . Always smiling . . . Mother, Alice, a portrait artist, was born in New York City . . . Learned to shoot a puck by bouncing one off a diaper service building's wall during his Chicago summers . . . Remembers "where he comes from," working with kids, because "one day they won't want my autograph anymore" . . . He and wife had twins this past summer . . . Married: Wife, Jean; Daughter, Jennifer (3 mos.); Son, Daniel (3 mos.)

Calgary, Alta.

1983-84: Took on a more defensive role during the season, to go along with his offensive talents, while prolonging his Ranger mark of best rate of scoring on club over last three years, 240 points in 229 games . . . Set club record for season for Longest Point Scoring Streak—10 Games, from 10/10-10/30. Had seven assists in five games; two goals in two games; an assist; a power-play goal; and one final assist before being shut out on 11/2 at Buffalo. Streak accounted for 12 PTS on 3 G, 9 A . . . REIJO RUOTSALAINEN

DEFENSE

5-8 170 Shoots R

Born: 4/1/60

Oulu, Finland

1983-84: Solidified his role as one of NHL's most outstanding offensive defensemen . . . Had best goal-scoring season in Ranger career and finished fourth in league in shots . . . Netted 20 goals, only the eighth time in 58-year Ranger history a defenseman has done so . . . Cracked off his patented bullet-like shot 287 times during year ("He has the hardest shot I've ever been hit with," says center Pierre Larouche) . . . Ranked second on team in plus/minus category, with a +17, . . . Had four game-winning goals. Two of them (both marking his second goal of the game) came in typical Ruotsalainen fashion, to highlight two of most notable Ranger '83-'84 victories: on 1/4, his shot from the left beat New Jersey, 4-3, at the Garden with 13 seconds left in OT; and his 40-foot slap shot at 12:28 of the third period on 1/29 vs. St. Louis (for a 3-2 win), enabled the Rangers to go into the All-Star break in first place, the latest in the season they'd been in that position since 1972 . . . Set Ranger record for the season for Most Shots, Period—6, 12/4 vs. Minnesota . . . Also tied Larouche for seasonal-high mark for Most Shots, Game—9. And he did it twice . . . Continued to make his game-winning goals memorable, when, on 4/5, his 45-footer in first period evened up playoffs with Islanders, 1-1, in 3-0 Ranger win . . . Registered his 100th Ranger assist 10/22 at Islanders and played in his 200th Ranger game 1/25 at Pittsburgh . . . Finished eighth among defensemen in All-Star Game voting, 13th in All-Star Team voting and shared Rangers Alumni Association Star of the Year Award with Larouche.

CAREER: Led team in plus/minus in '82-'83 with a +27 . . . Finished first in Ranger assists (53) in second season . . . Chosen for Finnish National Team in 1981 Canada Cup . . . Finnish All-Star in 1980, 1981 . . . Scored 17 goals in 59 games for his national team.

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Rexi" . . . Takes a lot of kidding over his supposed shyness, but opens up to teammates and friends . . . A close cohort at home and on the road of teammate Mark Pavelich, himself no chatterbox . . . Father Reino was one of coaches of this year's Finnish Olympic Team . . . Single.

SANDSTROM LATEST OF NHL SWEDISH STRAIN THAT ORIGINATED WITH RANGERS

Tomas Sandstrom is only the latest in a line of Swedish players in the NHL, a heritage that originated—in the personage of one Ulf Sterner—with the Rangers. Back in 1965, on a Wednesday night at the Garden, Jan. 27, Sterner, a 23-year old left-winger-center, made National Hockey League history by being the first European-bred player to play in the league. Sterner played only four games with the Rangers, not gaining any points, for his lone NHL experience. Hailing from the tiny Swedish town of Deje, New York really impressed the kid. "More people in this town," he said during his Broadway stay, "than all Sweden."

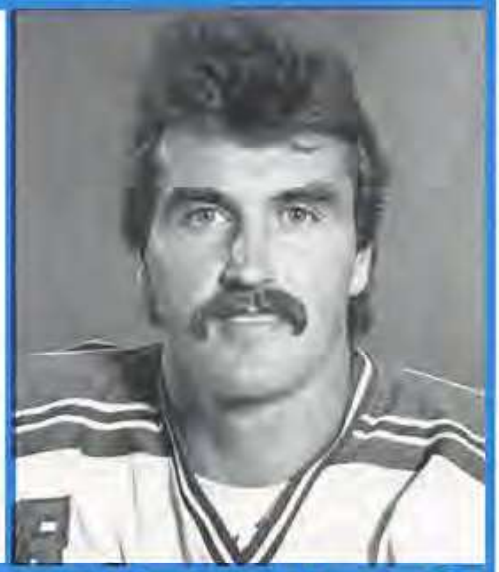
BLAINE STOUGHTON

RIGHT WING



5-11 185 Shoots R

Born: 3/13/53

Gilbert Plains, Manitoba

1983-84: The All-Time goal-scoring leader for the Hartford Whalers, was obtained by the Rangers on 2/27 of this past season in a trade for defenseman Scot Kleinendorst . . . Immediately made an impact by scoring in his first two games . . . First was on his first shot as a New Yorker, 2/29 at Toronto, when he put the Rangers up 1-0 at 3:56 of the second period for team's lone goal in game (3-1) . . . Next was three days later, on 3/3 at Washington, when he scored the lone Ranger goal again, 8:45 of the first period, tying the game, 1-1, in eventual 5-1 loss . . . His third goal out of the five he scored in his 14-game Ranger tenure was probably the most key, as his score—a power-play marker—at 9:27 of the second stanza proved the game-winner, 3-2, 3/10 at Edmonton, as the Rangers beat the Oilers for the first time in the last 10 meetings and gained two points on idle 2nd place Washington . . . First Ranger assist came 3/17 on a Mike Rogers goal, his former Hartford teammate, thus matching up two-thirds of the No. 1 all-time Whaler scoring line, nicknamed "Stash" (Stoughton), "Dash" (Rogers) and "Bash" (Pat Boutette, now of Pittsburgh) . . . A "sniper" ("From the top of the circles, in," says Rogers, "he's deadly"), his 22.3 shooting percentage led Whalers regulars in the final rankings.

CAREER: Compiled 219 goals in his five-year Whaler career, to place him first all-time in that Hartford category . . . Was Hartford's top goal-getter in its first four seasons in the NHL, averaging 49 goals in each of those seasons . . . Only one of two players (other being Bobby Hull) in history to have 50-goal seasons in both the NHL and WHA; and one of only three players in hockey (along with Hull and Ranger teammate Pierre Larouche) to register 50-goal seasons with two different major league clubs, Cincinnati of WHA in '76-'77 (52 goals) and Hartford in '79-'80 (56) and '81-'82 (52).

PERSONAL: Nickname: "Stash" . . . Follows the sun to Florida for most of the off-season, owning a house in Boca Raton, near the golf courses . . . A 12-handicapper golfer . . . Says toughest goalie to beat one-on-one is Islanders' Billy Smith . . . Married: Wife, Cindy; Daughter, Chelsea (5); Son, Chance (3).

PETER SUNDSTROM

6-0 180 Shoots L

Born: 12/14/61

Skelleftea, Sweden

1983-84: Came over to U.S. with cohort Jan Erixon to 1), play double the number of games he was used to and 2), establish himself as a key Ranger of the future . . . Had 22 G and 22 A for 44 PTS, to rank him 8th in the NHL among rookies in goal-scoring, with only one of the first-year players ranked above him, Hakan Loob of Calgary, coming from Europe . . . Finished in second place among NHL rookies in game-winning goals, with four, and short-handed goals—two . . . Set club record for season for Most Goals, Game—3, with Pierre Larouche . . . That hat trick was a "pure" one, three goals in a row, with the first two coming within a 41-second span, in 8-5 victory 1/16 vs. Detroit . . . Began year like an NHL veteran, scoring in first league game, the game-winner, 10/5 vs. New Jersey, for the first of six goals in his first 11 games. Three more were GWGs, in a row, with two of them coming in back-to-back games against the Islanders. First was versus another division rival, Philadelphia. Most momentous of the three was his overtime goal 10/23 vs. Islanders, his open-netter giving his team a 9-1 record, for best Ranger start ever . . . Ended season with a +3 in plus/minus ratings . . . Made up for the absence of PPGs in season play by netting one in playoffs in Game No. 2, on a shot from the slot to make score 2-0 in 3-0 series-evening (1-1) win on the Island.

CAREER: Followed, one year later, his twin brother Patrik over to NHL after both had played for Bjorkloven club in Sweden . . . Both were chosen for Swedish Junior National Team and then National Team . . . "We (he and Patrik) are still learning," Peter says. "Smaller rinks, faster play here is much a factor. We will adjust and play better."

PERSONAL: Inseparable from Erixon . . . is 20 minutes younger than brother Patrik . . . In spite of his shyness, was willing to fool pregame TV viewers by switching sweaters with brother when Vancouver visited Garden . . . Both Erixon and he own pacers in Sweden. Peter's horse: "Keyson Joms" . . . Single.

JOHN VANBIESBROUCK

GOALTENDER

5-7 165 Shoots L

Born: 9/4/63

Detroit, Mich.

1983-84: Had an outstanding year both in the big leagues and the minors . . . Ended up Co-MVP of the Central Hockey League "Minor League Player of the Year," as named by The Hockey News and a life-saver for the Rangers towards the end of the season . . . Was promoted to the big club on 3/21 from Tulsa to fill in for an injured Glen Hanlon. At that point, was the leading goalie in the CHL . . . Four days later, he made his first appearance for the Rangers since 1981, and proceeded to shut out the Montreal Canadiens through 8:29 of the third period, getting a 3-2 win that gave the Rangers 40 victories for the first time since 1978-79 . . . Started two of the final three games and split them, winning 6-4 on 3/29 vs. Pittsburgh and losing 5-3 on 3/31 at Hartford . . . After the NHL playoffs, Vanbiesbrouck returned to Oilers to, along with Ron Scott, backstop them to the CHL championship . . . He compiled the best GAA in the playoffs, 2.50, winning four games while losing none . . . For his 20-13-2 regular season record, and second-best average—3.46, Vanbiesbrouck received the Tommy Ivan Trophy, as the CHL's Most Valuable Player, along with Bruce Affleck of Indianapolis . . . His 20 wins were the second-best in the CHL and he recorded three of the seven shutouts that were posted the whole season in the league . . . He and Scott, thanks to being the goalies for the best defensive team of the season, were awarded the Terry Sawchuk Trophy . . . On top of all that, he was named to the CHL's First Team All-Star squad . . . After earning The Hockey News award, Vanbiesbrouck received one more honor—a spot on Team USA in the 1984 Canada Cup Tournament.

CAREER: Performed in one other game for the Rangers in his career, 12/5/81 at Colorado, winning 2-1, and turning away 30 shots. He was 18 at the time, playing in juniors for Sault Ste. Marie . . . Played three full years there before joining Tulsa this past season.

PERSON: Nickname: "Beezer" . . . Could easily be mistaken for a young executive off the ice, what with his glasses . . . Grew up blocking a taped-up old sock in his basement against brothers and friends. "The only way I could play with the older guys was if I was the goalie," he says . . . Single.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who this year embarked on their 59th season of National Hockey League play.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

1920's: Bun Cook, Ching Johnson, Bill Cook, Lester Patrick, Taffy Abel and Frank Boucher.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, which had opened its doors just a year earlier. The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned, and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick, whose grandson, Craig Patrick, is general manager for the current Rangers, worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals," Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were the stalwarts during these years.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fan favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York. Other stars of that time included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

The arrival of Craig Patrick in 1980, and the subsequent signing of Herb Brooks as coach, marks the Rangers' latest era, one that hopefully will mirror the successes of earlier days.

A return to tradition, plus such new stars as Anders Hedberg, Barry Beck, Mark Pavelich, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, already have —and are continuing to—make their mark on the Ranger legend.

1970's: Vic Hadfield scores his 49th and 50th goals.

RANGERS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

"There Are No More Lone Rangers" is its motto, and it is growing in size and committment every year. Under Director Steve Vickers and Co-Director Bill Chadwick, the three-year old Rangers Alumni Association, formed to unite and keep tabs on all ex-Blueshirts, is involved in numerous charitable events. Ranger Alumni have played in softball and hockey exhibitions . . . smacked the ball in charity golf tournaments . . . appeared at special fund-raisers. The RAA's Second Annual Golf & Tennis Classic at Briar Hall Country Club in Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. in September '84 was a sellout. Last season, the RAA played a Masters Of Hockey team at the Garden. It awards an annual trophy to an honored alumnus and a "Star of The Year Trophy" to a present Ranger player. The Association even publishes a newsletter to keep its members updated on RAA doings. And it plans to publish a Rangers Alumni Directory.

Hey, Not Fair! Ranger Vic Hadfield grabs Dennis Hull as Ranger Harry Howell does some tripping in last year's Alumni Game at the Garden.

Congrats, Rexi! RAA Director Steve Vickers presents Reijo Ruotsalainen with 1984 Star of the Year Award, shared with Pierre Larouche.

RAA Co-Director Bill Chadwick toasts 1984 Award Winner Murray Murdoch (L) as Butch Keeling and Barry Beck look on.

LONE RANGER RETIRED SWEATER

It's only been done once. The Rangers have retired only one sweater number in their 59-year history . . . No. 7. That was done on Opening Night at the Garden on October 14, 1979. The first No. 7 was worn by Frank Boucher, the last by Rod Gilbert.

NEW YORK RANGER WIVES FASHION SHOW

For the third year in a row, Ranger wives, children and players will join with the public in fighting child abuse by conducting their annual Ranger Fashion Show. Proceeds from the affair go towards the New York State Federation for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect. Last year was the wives' most successful show, with over $50,000 being raised to combat child abuse. Donations can be made at specially-selected Ranger games during the season, at Ranger open practices in Rye, N.Y. and through the mail. Helping the Ranger wives in organizing this year's festivities is Claire Stevens, News Director of Z-100 (WHTZ.) For additional information on the 1985 Fashion Show, contact the Rangers at 212-563-8000.
